

Dana Ray Walton

Dana Ray Walton, 44, of Ranger died Friday, Oct. 30, 2009 in a diabetic coma at a hospital in Abilene, Texas. He was buried in the Alameda Cemetery near Ranger.

Dana was born Nov. 12, 1964 to Lynn and Theopal Ash Walton in Gorman, Texas. He was a member of the Ranger High School class of 1984, and a long-time resident of the Gholson Hotel Apartments. Dana lived most his life in Ranger and worked at both the Eastland and Ranger Auction barns. He also worked as a yard hand for 20 years. Dana was a member of the Church of God Prophecy.

At the time of his death, he was survived by his brothers David Walton of Marlin, Texas, and Dennis Walton of Springtown, Texas; and one sister, Dorris England of Ranger; and numerous nieces and nephews.