

Letty Craddock

RANGER, Texas - Letty "Gran" Rogers Craddock, 93, went to be with her Lord on Sunday March 2, 2008, after a 6-year battle with Alzheimer's.

Services will be at the First Baptist Church at 2 p.m. on Friday. Burial will follow in Alameda Cemetery. Visitation will be come and go Thursday evening at the funeral home. Arrangements are by Edwards Funeral Home in Ranger.

Letty was born on April 24, 1914 to Cicero and Emma Musick Rogers in the Chaney community. She married her husband, Wade, on December 31, 1933. After moving away for a while, they returned in 1973 and built their home. Gran was a long time member of the Ranger First Baptist Church. She was a loving and caring person who loved to share her knowledge and teach others. She was an avid gardener and loved to be outside. She spent many days under her oak tree snapping peas and drinking tea. She loved looking after her beloved cows, cats, dogs and chickens. She had a zest for life and loved her family dearly.

She is preceded in death by her parents; her husband, Wade Sr.; brothers, Roy and J.H. Rogers; and sisters, Gladys Bibby and Veda Burns.

She is survived by her son Wade Jr. and wife Sandra of Las Cruces, New Mexico; brother, Carlie Rogers and wife Nell of Quitman, Texas; grandchildren, Curtis and wife Wendy of Iliff, Colorado, Cheryl and husband Phil Ficara of Tucson, Arizona, and Carl Craddock of Woodstock, Georgia; great-granddaughter, Sarah Ficara. She is also survived by her "adopted family" Bill, Tammy, and Candy Riehle, and Shayla, Nathan and Jesse Honeycutt.
